

DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

Graduate

Graduate Programs in Philosophy

The Department of Philosophy at Colorado State University offers a Master of Arts degree in philosophy. The department has established scholars specializing in several traditional subdisciplines in philosophy including Aesthetics, Epistemology, Ethics, History of Philosophy, Logic, Philosophy of Science, Social and Political Philosophy, and Metaphysics. Students interested in the M.A. program should refer to the Graduate and Professional Bulletin (<https://catalog.colostate.edu/general-catalog/graduate-bulletin/>) and the Department of Philosophy (<http://philosophy.colostate.edu>) website.

The department welcomes graduate students with diverse backgrounds, including students with undergraduate degrees in areas besides philosophy. The aim of the M.A. Program is to train talented students in modern philosophical methods and broaden their engagement with a range of areas of field. Many of graduates of the M.A. program go on to Ph.D. programs at some of the leading graduate programs in the world, while others pursue successful careers in other areas.

For more information please contact our Director of Graduate Studies:
CLA_philosophygraddirector@colostate.edu

Master's Programs

- Master of Arts in Philosophy, Plan A (<https://catalog.colostate.edu/general-catalog/colleges/liberal-arts/philosophy/plan-a-philosophy-ma/>)
- Master of Arts in Philosophy, Plan B (<https://catalog.colostate.edu/general-catalog/colleges/liberal-arts/philosophy/plan-b-philosophy-ma/>)