

MINOR IN BOTANY

---

The Minor in Botany allows students to develop expertise in the study of plants, their ecology, and applied sciences that use these skillsets, as a supplement to their major program.

Learning Objectives

Students in the Botany minor develop foundational knowledge in the anatomy, physiology, evolution, and management of plants and use that knowledge to develop expertise and scientific competencies that augment their major program of study.

Department of Biology Undergraduate Programs (<https://www.biology.colostate.edu/undergraduate-students/>)