

MINOR IN DATA SCIENCE

Students with a minor in Data Science will receive foundational training in modern data science to complement and enhance their major field of study.

Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion, students will be able to:

1. Determine the appropriate method to apply to a given data science problem.
2. Prepare data drawn from disparate sources into a form suitable for analysis.
3. Perform basic data science analyses.
4. Interpret and present the results.